

PEMBERTON TEMPLETON 48-HOUR NOVELLA-WRITING CONTEST

"Infamous". Though Pemberton Templeton is only in its third year, making it something like a bright-eyed toddler, it has gained notoriety, prestige and literary legitimacy much to the alarm of its organizers.

"Pemberton Templeton". A mystery.

"48-Hour". Beginning 12:00am, Saturday, August 21 and ending 11:59pm, Sunday, August 22. Times are sharp, like cheddar.

"Novella-Writing". This is the primary activity that will occupy the 48 hours. By "novella" we mean a work of prose fiction in any genre and of at least 6500 words (about 22 typed, double-spaced pages) and written in English.

"Contest". Your finished and submitted novella will be judged against those of everyone else who registered, submitted and finished. The best novellas will be published in a book of winners. The best overall will get a cash prize of three hundred and twenty-five Canadian dollars.
